

PATHWAYS

An Exploration of Post-High School Opportunities

May 16, 2017

For many students, planning for life after high school is relatively simple: choose a 4-year college. At Eastern Christian High School, however, we recognize that 4-year college is not always the preferred or ideal next step for every student. ECHS strives to be a place where students and families can confidently explore a wide variety of postsecondary opportunities. We want you to feel encouraged, supported, and empowered to discover the pathway that will lead to your future calling, and are inviting you to begin the discussion at Pathways: An Exploration of Post-High School Opportunities.

On Tuesday May 16th, 2017, the College & Career Office, TESS and WINGS are hosting an informal evening event. Speakers for the evening will be Jesse Struck, Alisa Engelhard, and Jesse Wright. You will have the opportunity to learn about these topics:

- Community College
- Alternative Programs Within 4-year Colleges
- Trade Schools
- Gap-Year Programs
- WINGS
- Armed Forces
- PLUS hear from our panel of ECHS alumni who chose non-traditional pathways

An overview of these opportunities will be presented in the Media Center, followed by optional break-out sessions where speakers will host informal Q&A's and our alumni panel. We have sought to create a safe and comfortable place to explore these options and ask questions. We sincerely hope to see you there.
